WHAT'S GOING on at the former Kanka lunch counter? There was a "for sale" sign on the building for a while and next thing we knew, all furniture and fixtures had been removed and it had been painted pink.

CONGRESSMAN Jeffrey Cohen has told Albany friends he will try to attend the ribbon-cutting ceremonies for the Art Show at 7 p.m. Friday.

LANDSCAPING has been completed at Albany's Civic Center. It will look great when everything takes hold.

SOME AREA NEWSPAPERS didn't give proper credit to Albany police who were responsible for nabbing a man and woman wanted for the armed robbery of U Save Market at University and Grove early Saturday. It was our Sgt. Jim Harris, Officer Mel Boyd and Reserve Officer John Cole who made the 11-mile chase at speeds up to 110 miles per hour, who rammed the fleeing car, shot out a rear tire and apprehended the two, who were taken to Albany's police station and held for Berkeley. Other departments may have been following, but Albany was where the action was!

THANKS TO Albany schools for their cooperation on the Art Show. They've been wonderful about whatever the committee requested, even if it wasn't needed at the last minute.

LATE ADDITIONS to the Art Show: a Chinese food booth operated by Villagers Opposed to War; ice cream wagons operated by G and G Vending company, and these artists: Louise Shaw of Albany, paintings; Charlotte Pierce, Alameda, paintings; Ron Tanovitz, Rodeo, crafts, and Florence Jukes, Berkeley, paintings. Reported early Tuesday were these artists: Mrs. Frank Lawrence, Rodeo, crafts; Albert Clymer, paintings, and Betty Parker, crafts.

Many Innovations in Art Division of Show This Year

by Catherine Webb
Chairman of Artists An art work table for children and poetry reading will be two new features of the Albany Art Festival to be held Aug. 19-21. Supervision for children making collages will be provided by members of the staff of The Villager and parents from the Village Nursery School.

Poets D. A. Hagelberg of Richmond and Anita Patterson of Oakland will read some of their poems on Sunday afternoon. Among the titles of poems to be read are "War with the Weed," "The Steam Baths," "There are Still Tigers" and "Portrait of a Lady."

Artists and craftsmen from cities around the bay will participate with a variety of works including oils, water colors, photographs, etchings, woodcraft, plastics, jewelry and many others. Cities represented include Albany, Berkeley, El Cerrito, Richmond, San Francisco, Larkspur and Daly City.

Albany, Berkeley, El Cerrito, Richmond, San Francisco, Larkspur and Daly City.

Albany's Art Festival presents a unique combination of the total community with both merchants and artists combining to make the show possible. For many merchants it represents a burden to pay extra help which is rewarded if Albany citizens get better acquainted with the goods and services offered throughout the year.

For the artist outdoor festivals offer an opportunity to get a first reaction to a new work. For example Aileen Jaffa is eager to show her latest oil painting which was inspired by the colors of the sunset which she observed while participating in the El Cerrito Art Festival.

For both artists and merchants there must be a financial return or this festival which is enjoyed by so many cannot continue to be a pleasant summer tradition.

Court Denies BCDC Request To Halt Albany's Bay Fill

Albany City Attorney Lawrence D. Saler won another round with the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission in court last Wednesday, when Alameda County Superior Court Judge Thomas W. Caldecott denied BCDC's request for a preliminary injunction to halt this city's tidelands fill project.

BCDC has indicated it may appeal the denial, but meanwhile the filling of the bay continues and may continue until a full-blown trial comes up in six months or so.

(Albany is making much more headway with BCDC than its neighbor to the south, Emeryville, who could not stop the preliminary injunction and had to close its bay fill project.)

According to Saler, Judge Caldecott ruled that Albany's fill is a "project" in terms of the McAtter-Petris Act, which created BCDC last year. BCDC contends Albany is conducting a "random dumping operation" and does not meet the definition of "project," primarily because there was no detailed Albany plan when the commission was created.

Judge Caldecott said, "We seem to have the feeling that the word 'project' is limited to two uses: recreation and parks and marine facilities." He added the word could also apply to sewer disposal, refuse disposal, in fact anything the city is undertaking. He decreed the city's contract with operators of the sanitary landfill company is a refuse disposal project.

BCDC said "irreparable damage" would result to the bay if filling were allowed to continue, but the judge said there also is potential damage to the city and operators if the preliminary injunction were granted.

Saler and Administrative Officer James B. Turner have maintained Albany has had a "project" since 1961. That was the year Albany obtained a modification in the uses of the tidelands grant to allow waterfront reclamation and improvement.

Alvin Baum, deputy executive director of BCDC, said the commission will consider an appeal after consulting with legal counsel.

Alberito Patio Party Tuesday

The Alberito Club of Business and Professional Women is composed of women from Albany, Berkeley and El Cerrito, as the name suggests. Since its formation, many members from Richmond, Kensington and El Sobrante have joined.

Dolores Plant, Alberito's president, announced that the "Patio Party" held Tuesday, Aug. 16, was dedicated to prospective members. On this annual occasion, all women interested in becoming part of the plan for progress of women in business and the professions were introduced to the aims and projects of our club and to the state, national and federation objectives. This evening was also devoted to making friends for personal pleasure.

Dorothy Sitton, membership chairman, was in charge of affairs and opened her El Cerrito home for the occasion. Friendship time was followed by dinner at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Sitton was assisted by Laura Roderick, Una Roderick, Ruth Sloan, Josephine Foley, Irene McWilliams and Selma Lee.

Apprehend Robbers

Albany Police Officers Archie Stirling, Roger Freeman and Bernard Johnson quickly apprehended two robbers who allegedly stole a TV set from Plaza Electric No. 2 at 1041 San Pablo about noon Monday.

When the silent alarm came in, Stirling went to the firm and arrested Willie Gore of Oakland as he carried the TV from the shop. A second man was in a car in front. He drove off when Stirling arrived. Freeman and Johnson pursued the car, stopped it at Gilman and Talbot. The driver, Thomas Dooley of Oakland, denied taking part in the robbery, but officers noted he talked to Gore in another cell. He finally admitted knowing him. Each was held on $4,400 bail.

Chapter 550, OES

Albany chapter 550, Order of Eastern Star, will observe Friendship Night Friday, Aug. 19, at 8 p.m. at Albany temple, 333 San Pablo Ave.

Visiting officers will replace regular officers at the stations. Worthy Matron Druceleia Hobbs and Worthy Patron Raymond Hobbs will preside.

Council Votes to Censure BCDC Staffer Alvin Baum

Sparked by Councilman Lewis Howell, Albany City Council Monday night voted 3-2 to send a letter to the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission outlining the harassment this city has suffered at the hands of BCDC assistant director Alvin Baum.

Howell and Councilman George Hein voted no on the final motion because they wanted to ask BCDC to fire Baum and replace him with a public relations man who would work with cities and industries in overall planning of the Bay.

Howell spoke at length on the subject after a letter was read from the state office of planning stating the organization is suspending processing of requested funds to finance a detailed plan for Albany's waterfront. The reason given was that the level of coordination between Albany and BCDC was less than necessary to achieve a meaningful program.

Personal Feelings

Howell said he believes there are personal feelings involved, particularly where Baum is concerned. Several years ago, Howell said, Baum was attorney for Golden Gate Fields. He fought bitterly Albany's proposed 20-cent admission tax at the racetrack and after it was adopted, he paid the tax under protest each year. Since he has gone elsewhere, the Councilman said, Albany has had good relations with the management of Golden Gate Fields.

"Now Mr. Baum seems to have carried the old feud into BCDC," Howell said. "I believe Baum should be fired and a public relations person be hired." He made the motion to write BCDC to this effect. It was seconded by Hein.

Mayor Richard Clark disagreed, although he said, "Howell is angry. I am angry and the whole council is angry, but I don't think we should ask to terminate Baum. We should write a letter stating point by point the things we feel he is doing out."

Former City Treasurer's Funeral Thursday

Grace L. Higgins, Albany city treasurer for 24 years from April, 1932, to April, 1956, died at Oak Park Convalescent Home in Pleasant Hill Monday.

Her children were educated in Albany schools.

Two brothers preceded her in death. Several grandchildren also survive.

Preschoolers Must Be Accompanied By Adult at Matinees

The color feature film at the junior matinee today will be "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer." Doors open at 12:45 p.m. with chapter 11 of the serial starting at 1 p.m. Donations: children five to 12 - 25 cents; adults - 50 cents.

Mrs. Charles Tronoff said, "The Albany PTA Committee for Children's Movies would like to remind parents and babysitters that due to the nature of this project we cannot give the preschooler the special attention he requires; therefore, we again state our regulation as set forth at the beginning of the series: preschoolers must be accompanied by an adult. Several infractions of this regulation have been observed the past two weeks. Thank you for your cooperation."

side his authority and jurisdiction." This was submitted as an amendment by Councilman Joe Egenberger. They were joined in voting yes by Councilman Joe Carlevaro.

A further amendment directed City Attorney Larry Saler to write the letter.

Charges

Clark said Baum had repaid Albany's attempts to cooperate with BCDC by taking notes and "trying to trap us." Baum, he said, had made it clear he would not cooperate unless we submitted as they desired. He noted that BCDC (Baum) came without authorization or invitation to a recent meeting of Albany and the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG).

"Baum said he'd defeat our plan and apparently he was behind the scenes to defeat the grant (for specific waterfront plans)," Clark said. "... We have been harassed to a degree where our administrative officer spends almost full time at the waterfront with other state agencies, apparently contacted by Baum. ... I'm happy to say we filled all the requirements of all state agencies."

Tribute

In related action, Councilmen one by one paid tribute to City Attorney Larry Saler for his fine work in appearing before the courts of Alameda County last Wednesday, when the judge ruled against BCDC's request for a preliminary injunction to stop Albany's bay fill.

Council authorized stop signs on Thousand Oaks at the intersections of Ramona, Pomona, Carmel and San Carlos as well as walkways in the area, both having been recommended by Administrative Officer James B. Turner.

Mayor Clark will write a letter to the U.S. attorney general supporting Pleasanton's ordinance prohibiting curbside mail boxes. Horace Koepke was appointed permanent fireman as recommended by Chief Gerald Browne.

Complaint

Bruce McGaw's letter complaining of methods used in the Albany Health department's rodent control program was referred to a work session next Monday night to be attended by Harold Van Coops, deputy health officer.

Three communications from Albany Chamber of Commerce were filed. One thanked Council for the 1966-67 contract; the second invited Councilmen to attend the ribbon-cutting for the Art Show and Merchants' Bazaar, and the third asked permission to hold the show this weekend in Memorial park.

Councilmen unanimously accepted the invitation to attend the show as well as approving it.

Ordinance 66-06 (see legal today) was passed to print and Dennis O'Sullivan, fireman, was granted a leave of absence.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:50 with a moment of silence in memory of Former City Treasurer Grace L. Higgins, who died Monday.

Jean Best Demonstrates Brushless Painting Here

Mrs. Jean Best of 805 Curtis will demonstrate her brushless painting technique at Olson's Morwear Paint shop on Solano next Monday and Tuesday.

She also will show her work at the Art Show and Merchants' Bazaar in Memorial Park this weekend.

Hours of demonstrations at Morwear will be 2:40 p.m. Monday and from 10 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday.

Mrs. Best, who has achieved much recognition for her self-taught method, uses not only fingers, but palms, wrists, knuckles, arms and elbows and turns out paintings in as little as 10 minutes.

She first studied finger-painting but found its methods limited her desire for expression. Now she uses fingerpainting as a springboard to brushless painting. She feels the latter creates more realism.

Mrs. Best, a widow since her husband died in 1958, raised two sons and two daughters and later her granddaughter, Diane, who is now married.

"Having this talent for brushless painting has helped me through the lonely years," she said. "God gave me this talent. I was able to draw and paint as a young child."

For the past three years, she has spent winters in Ontario, Canada, with her daughter, Mrs. William Bowers and family, and son, Dr. Cecil H. Best and family. She occupied herself painting and selling her paintings. She says she is able to travel with proceeds from her craft.

While she was in Windsor, the superintendent of the Board of Education invited her to demonstrate brushless painting at the Teachers college and to display her paintings. There were 175 art teachers present and they paid her $25.

She has sold paintings in Canada, Manhattan, and at home. Two are now in Germany and one in New Zealand.

STEPHANIE REESE and Ginger Drozda will be seen in "Me and My Shadow," one of the features of "Would You Believe, Art Bizarre?"

Home Talent Production New Feature of Art Show

For two years it has been planned to have a home-talent production in connection with the Art Show and Merchants' Bazaar. This year it's coming off.

Mrs. Fred (Betty) McCollum, member of a show biz family, who staged those zany Marin Nights for years, is in full charge of "Would You Believe, Art Bizarre?" (She even thought of the title.)

Featuring a non-star cast of Albany residents, the show will be staged twice—8:30 p.m. Saturday and 3 p.m. Sunday—in the Veterans Memorial building adjacent to the show grounds in Memorial Park. A charge of 25 cents per person will help defray costs of the building.

The production is of such magnitude that it could not possibly be staged to advantage on the Art Show stage, the director said. She has kept the theme a well-guarded secret, but has given permission for three members of the cast (the two halves of a horse and Catman) to make a quick trip through the Art Show at 1:30 Saturday to give patrons a sneak preview of the high calibre talent involved.

Following the overture (?), Maid of Albany Sandra Hicks and Former Maid Sharon Dreyer will take over as hostesses and welcome the crowd.

Other numbers, in order of appearance, will be: Mañ About Town, Al and Sam, Antionette Sings, Shadow Study, Cat Man and Dobbin, The Coachmen, The Dance, Musical Interlude, Happy Voices, Pirouettes and the Finale. It will last an hour.

Members of the cast will include Former Maid of Albany Lorrene Baum, Jim Smith, Bill McKenna, Ken Lettrich, Bob Gray, Saul Torres, Mrs. Robert Luoma, Rex Volheim, Jack Purcell, Jim Robbins, Bill Dennis, Hap Willis, Bob Nehls, Mrs. John Larimer, Mrs. Larry Baum, Mrs. Arvid Burman, Al Drozda, Antionette Stallone, Allen Olson, Skip Clayton, Les Laybourne, Ginger Drozda and Stephanie Reese.

Bert Swerer is Mrs. McCollum's right hand man, who is in charge of special effects, make-up, lights and curtain. American Legion auxiliary unit 292 is providing the ramp and Travelini Furniture, carpet for the ramp.

Matinee Aug. 22 For Albany Spies

As a bonus adventure for the Albany Library Spies, a special matinee will be held Monday afternoon, Aug. 22, in Cornell Auditorium, at 1:30 p.m.

Films lined up for the 007s of the elementary school reading program are: "The Doughnuts," a humorous story of the unstoppable doughnut machine from "Homer Price" by McCloskeys; "And Now Miguel," The story of an American family in the Southwest whose traditions of sheep raising have come down through generations of Spanish ancestors; "Three Little Bruns On a Spree," where concealed cameras record intimate action shots of bears getting into mischief.

Bringing to a close the third annual reading program, and with 275 young participating readers, the Albany Public Library staff has planned the theatre party with an eye on adventure and humor.

The secret book agents may, if they care to, invite their parents to attend the films with them.

MEDICARE

(A Series)

Home Health Services

A very important part of the Federal Medicare program is the provision for home health services. This provision, in fact, is so important that it is covered in both the hospital insurance and medical insurance parts of the law.

The provision for home health visits by qualified people is designed to enable a Medicare patient to return to the comfort of his home more quickly with the assurance that he still will receive the medical care he needs to help him fully recuperate. This will then free much needed beds in both hospitals and extended care facilities.

The hospital insurance program will pay for up to 100 home health visits by nurses or other health workers from qualified home health agencies during the 365 days following your release from the hospital or extended care facility.

The supplementary medical insurance program will pay for 80 per cent of the reasonable cost of another 100 home health visits per year, prescribed by your doctor in case the first 100 visits under the hospital plan are not sufficient or in case your illness does not require hospitalization but it does require home health visits by a qualified medical worker.

As is true in the operation of all Medicare provisions, the key person is your doctor. He must prescribe these services before they are paid for.

There are a few basic differences between the Home Health visit coverage under your hospitalization insurance plan and that under your medical insurance plan:

a. The complete cost of the home health visit made under the hospital plan is paid by Medicare.

Eighty per cent of the reasonable cost of the home health visit under the Supplementary Medical Insurance plan is paid by Medicare—you pay the balance.

b. Home health services under the hospital plan are provided only if you have been in the hospital at least three days; your doctor orders the visits within 14 days of your discharge from the hospital or extended care facility; and you are receiving the home health visits for the illness you had while hospitalized.

Home health services under the Supplementary Medical Insurance plan only have to be prescribed by your doctor.

Home health services for care of mental illnesses are not covered by the hospital plan.

Home health visits for care of mental illnesses are covered by the medical insurance plan but only to a maximum expenditure of $250 per year. Under either plan, the home health agency sends bills direct to Medicare. They will only bill you for the remaining 20 per cent due under the Medical Insurance plan.

What Home Health Services Are Covered

Part-time care; physical, occupational, or speech therapy; services of home health aides (in connection with your treatment); medical social services; medical supplies, except drugs; use of medical appliances; any of the rehabilitation services outside your home which require equipment that cannot be brought to your home.

What Home Health Services Are Not Covered

Physicians' services (your medical insurance will help to pay your doctor bills); prescription

Editor, the Times:

We want to thank you for the courtesy you have shown during our recent campaign to publicize the Measles Immunization Clinic in Berkeley.

Over 800 small children were immunized in a seven week period. We feel that the fine press coverage is largely responsible for the success of the clinic.

drugs; full time nursing care; personal comfort items (television rental, "companion" services, etc.); services furnished by a home health agency operated primarily for the treatment of mental illness; general house-keeping services; meals delivered to your home.

An important service the doctor must perform every time you become ill is to diagnose your illness. How Medicare handles the cost of this is the subject of our next article.

Samuel Jasper Covington, 41, whose mother, Mrs. Soledad A. Cagaanan, lives at 1205 Santa Fe was promoted to Army sergeant first class July 21 at Fort Huachuca, Ariz., where he is serving with Company D, U.S. Army Electronic Proving Ground. Sgt. Albany Police Pistol Team Wins Trophy

The pistol team representing Albany Police department recently won a first place trophy in a competition sponsored by the newly-organized East Bay Police Pistol Shooting League. Local officers compiled 943 of a possible 1,000 points to capture the award.

Members of the prize-winning team were Sgts. Jim Harris and Glenn Thompson and Officers George Phillips and Archie Stirling. The meet was held on the Hayward Police Range Aug. 6.

The East Bay Police Pistol Shooting League was formed in May of this year by members of 12 Bay Area police pistol teams, including those from Albany, who had expressed interest in such a league. In June, the first competition was held. It has been planned that monthly competition will be held all through the year.

The league is self-supporting, in that each team provides its own ammunition and targets in addition to a small donation toward purchase of trophies. The league has been such a success that it has taken in an additional member; two other departments have expressed interest in joining. Present membership includes teams from the following departments: Alameda PD, Alameda Sheriff's office, Albany

PD, Berkeley PD, El Cerrito PD, Contra Costa Sheriff's office, Fremont PD, Kensington PD, Hayward PD, Newark PD, Richmond PD, San Leandro PD and Oakland PD.

The aim of the league is to promote safe and professional handling of firearms and to give officers experience in shooting under combat conditions.

A gratifying by-product of this competition has been the cooperation extended by all members. This cooperation is not only present at the competitions but also evidenced on the job.

"Intercity cooperation is essential and we feel that this league

Traffic Tags

by Officer Robert Buck

A great deal of publicity has been given to Mr. Nader's theories and demands for more safety features in the manufacture of automobiles. We are well aware that the American automobile is not the best safety-engineered contrivance on the scene today, however, the overall picture of traffic statistics deserves a look.

Last year nearly 49,000 people is doing a great job of promoting it," said Officer Phillips.

were killed in traffic accidents and more than 300,000 were injured. Of the fatalities were attributed to driver error and at least 36,000 of the injuries were caused by traffic laws.

It is apparent that the automobile manufacturers are the major responsible parties in the terrible traffic toll. The time has come when concerted efforts to change attitudes in our driving make sure that this no pushed aside the recent criticism of manufacturers.

High 12 Speaker 'Order of Golden Fleece' Awarded to USDA Men

Harold Brillhart, past president of Albany High 12 who has announced his candidacy for second vice president of California State association of High 12, will speak at the noon meeting Friday, Aug. 19, at Kirby's in El Cerrito Plaza.

His topic will be his trip to the international convention in New Orleans. He is currently vice president of Area 1.

100F
Berkeley Lodge 270, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will meet Thursday, Aug. 18, at 8 p.m. in the Berkeley Odd Fellows Temple, 2888 Fulton Street. The principal business of the evening

Two local men were among those honored with the "Order of the Golden Fleece" at the 106th annual convention of the California Wool Growers Association Aug. 11-12 in San Francisco.

They are Dr. Michael J. Copley of Berkeley, director of the Western Utilization Research and Development Division of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Albany, and Dr. Harold P. Lundgren, Kensington, chief of the Division's wool and mohair laboratory.

will be the final action on the amendment to the by-laws. Odd Fellows sojourning in the Bay Area are always welcome.

The award which consists of a handsome sheepskin peit and a citation is bestowed on persons who have rendered distinguished service to the California sheep industry.

Dr. Copley was cited for his outstanding service as Director of USDA's Western Research Division, which he has headed since 1947, with special reference to the building of a strong research group in mohair and wool. Under his supervision the wool laboratory, which was established in 1948, has grown from a small group of protein chemists to its present position of world leadership in wool research with a staff of 60 scientist and technicians. Dr. Copley was awarded the USDA's highest honor, the Distinguished Service Award by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman in May of this year.

Dr. Lundgren has been chief of the wool and mohair laboratory of the Western Division since it was created. He was honored for directing research resulting in many new important practical applications, such as the recently discovered "WURLAN" process, which makes woolen materials shrink-proof. This is one of the most valuable discoveries in modern times in the wool manufacturing industry and has been already applied commercially to over nine million yards of fabrics. Another important development of his laboratory is a method for permanently creasing wool garments, which is now included in the purchase specifications for all military uniforms for the U.S. Army. Dr. Lundgren received the USDA's Superior Service Award earlier this year and last year was the recipient of the Harold DeWitt Smith Memorial Gold Medal, "for outstanding achievement in textile fiber utilization," one of the highest wards given by the textile industry.

Albany High School Football News

Tomorrow night, Thursday, Aug. 18, at 6 p.m. all Varsity and JV football candidates will be reporting to the high school for physical examinations prior to the start of practice on Monday, Aug. 22.

A new spirit is obviously present this year as over 70 boys have already signed to play. Many of these boys have been running and exercising to better prepare them for the coming season.

During the summer several boys have been infected by the football bug and have decided to join the team. The coaches have stated that it is not too late to join and they can get all the information they need by calling Mr. Hoyle at 526-9347 or by reporting tomorrow night at 6 p.m. for the physical.

Freshman football players, over 30 of them, will be examined after Labor Day on Sept. 6.
